Scotland

Cost: £5,000    Project Name: Pathway to Enterprise Programme

Project Location: Rouken Glen Park

What is your project?

We are seeking funding to deliver our Pathway to Enterprise Programme – a highly practical, skill-building project which supports disengaged young people to reach their full potential.

Taking place at the YE Scotland Rouken Glen Training Centre, the programme involves a mix of classroom learning, personal development, practical training, and real enterprise experiences. The Centre, situated at the heart of Rouken Glen Park, is an inspiring environment which raises aspirations and promotes a more positive attitude to learning. Young people learn more about their interests and gain skills by starting up their own enterprise.

We provide a highly supportive experience including free breakfast and lunches to make sure there are no barriers to attending.

Who is the project for?

Local young people aged 14-16 who don't thrive in the traditional school environment for a number of reasons including additional support needs or lack of confidence.

Young people attend at least 1 day per week instead of school.

Post-Covid, young people need help more than ever to build enterprising skills like resilience and teamwork to help them succeed.
